Resolving Competitions

When plants of two different species are, for whatever reason, forced to occupy the same tile, they Compete. Competitions are resolved using a plant species' stats: Resilience and Aggression. These stats are listed on your plant cards, and they both range from 0 to 7.

- If a given plant's Resilience is lower than the other's Aggression, it dies. This may result in both plants dying.
- On a tie where both plants survive, they coexist and may grow in the same space.

Example Competition:

Nightshade lives, because its Resilience (2) is greater than Dewleaf's Aggression (0).

Dewleaf dies, because its Resilience (4) is less than Nightshade's Aggression (7).

If more than two plant species are occupying the same space, they all compete simultaneously.
